

“COME UP HITHER”

In this existence we call “life” to move forward one must not allow themselves to become captured in the entanglements of the past, nor so engaged in their present that they have no time for their futures to be allowed to unfold in an ever advancing consciousness towards unity with their Creator.

The forward progress of the soul in that greater desire of unification with their higher spirit is contingent upon learning the lessons of the past so that in our present we can transcend those failings of the Self nature to behold the greater opportunities that shall become revealed throughout all space and time until merged with The Eternal to a full renewal of promise so that Creation might be maintained in it’s journey ever higher to Eternal Day, which is the returning of a boundless eternity.

Created, redeemed and restored to the focus of those things beyond the sensual, the necessities of our existence and the failings of those past yokings of inequality, we must not allow our prior lessons to be held in such high regard of importance as to be mesmerized or entranced in our spiritual vision or our ability to continue in our ascension up the staircase of Truth. No one step is more important than another but all must be traversed if the journey is to reach it’s ultimate destination in New Jerusalem - The Eternal City of The Almighty and of His Christ, even Jesus.

For by the witness of “The Perfect Son” moving in the manifestation of The Holy Spirit were the “perfected sons” to be drawn in their returning to “Still Eternity”, that place of their spiritual origin. Ascending and descending to bring forth the issuing forth of the Decrees from The Eternal Throne as Emanuel again impresses His guidance, His inspiration to imprint humanity with His leadings to return in overcoming fulfillment.

To become “a deer in headlights” by the dawns of the senses will bring about no repair in the soul and will deprive us of that greater spiritual influx, thus bringing about “the first death”. A death to all things spiritual by that greater regard for the senses as being our only indicator of truth will only bring about a greater decline during our day of probation, and to continue that path for all your days will result in “the second death” once our spirits return unto the World of Spirits at our passing into that next reality.

The failure to regard or to acknowledge that higher or “angelic” influx - by which redemption can take place - leaves us only open to the infernal influx which feeds upon the fallen propensities and brings about a greater destruction, both in individuals and in nations. We always make ourselves available or at jeopardy to those greater receptions by the choices we make and that which we choose to regard as “truth” and our desire or lack thereof to advance. By our “free will” the Day of Ignorance or gross darkness can and will be extended. But to those willing to receive, theirs will be darkness turning grey, as by degrees that greater light begins to shine and to expose the inherent pitfalls that have captured and enslaved the multitudes throughout all recorded time.

The multitudes of those entrapments by the choices made have thrown the World of Spirits out of balance and all have suffered and do yet suffer loss. As in times past equilibrium must and will be restored in the New Day as a new dispensation; a greater awakening is brought forth in the Earth as it is in the Heavens.
